COMING EVENTS

The next Sumter Little Theatre offering is a wonderful, if slightly naughty, comedy directed by Gretchen Degenhardt. "Accommodations" will open at the theatre October 16, 1983, for a four-night run. Ken and Marcy Poston, Ruth Sohn, and Marshall Perry star in the fast-paced story of a computer mix-up that puts two girls and a guy in an apartment-sharing set-up. Don't miss it!

Remember Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy? Our Christmas musical will be an affectionate look at the lovable silliness of the old operettas called "Little Mary Sunshine." Unbelievably pretty girls, startlingly handsome Colorado Mounties, fierce renegade Indians, and tune after tune after tune. Director Ricky Christie has issued a call for singers and dancers Sunday, September 25, at 2:00, and Monday night, September 26, at 7:30. Take a plunge–be an actor–come try out!

"Jack and the Beanstalk," a lobby show for children, will have its auditions Saturday, September 24, at 2:00, and Sunday, September 25, at 6:00. Larry Stoy will direct the improvisational show, and needs actors 16 and up with quick wits, who are full of beans, if you'll pardon the pun.
